

A COLLECTIBLE CARD GAME FOR COUPLES

PLAY TIME

ROLL THE DIE. RAISE THE HEAT.

BEFORE ANYTHING ELSE

THE ONLY RULE THAT MATTERS

BOTH PEOPLE SHOULD BE HAVING A GOOD TIME.

Everything after this page is a suggestion.
This part isn't. If a card, a category, or a whole night stops being fun for either of you, the game is over and nobody has lost anything.

WHAT'S INSIDE

72

CARDS

Seven categories, three rarities, five levels of heat. Every card is one clear activity — no riddles, no fluff.

TWELVE-SIDED DIE

The whole engine. Each face maps to a category, so the die picks the mood and you never argue about where to start.

QUICK START CARD

The five steps on one card, for nights when nobody wants to read a booklet.

RARITY LEVELS

Common, Uncommon and Rare — so pulling a card you have never seen still feels like something.

Missing something? Every component is listed on the bottom of the box. Contact us and we'll replace it.

SECTION 01

HOW TO PLAY

ROLL. DRAW. READ. DO.
SWITCH TURNS.

THE THIRTY-SECOND VERSION

- 1 Roll the twelve-sided die.
 - 2 Take the first card whose back matches your roll.
 - 3 Read the card out loud.
 - 4 Do it, tweak it, or save it for later.
 - 5 Switch turns and keep going.

THAT'S IT. NO COMPLICATED RULES. JUST BETTER NIGHTS.

Who rolls first? Whoever suggested playing. After that, alternate — the roller reads, the other one chooses whether to go along, tweak it, or pass.

SETTING UP

1 SHUFFLE ONE DECK

Shuffle every card together into one face-down deck. Each back is printed in its category color with its die numbers, so there's nothing to sort and nobody sees a card before it's drawn.

2 SET YOUR CEILING

Agree on the highest Spice level you're playing tonight. Anything above it stays in the box. The three All In cards stay out unless you both ask for them.

3 PULL YOUR VETOES

Either of you can take any card out before you start. No reason needed. It's out for tonight, not forever.

4 MAKE ROOM FOR THREE PILES

Played, Saved and Retired. Every card you draw ends the night in one of them.

5 PICK A ROLLER

Whoever suggested playing rolls first.

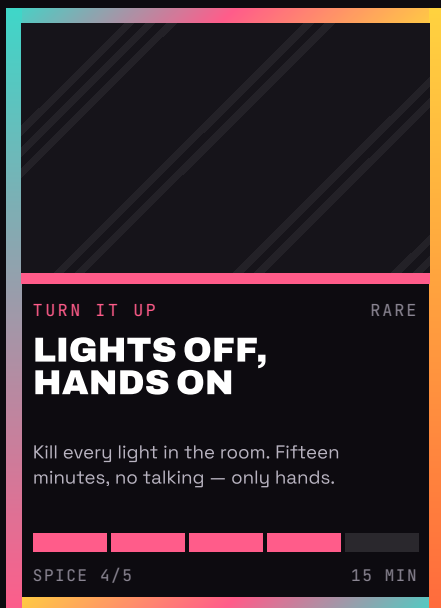

Two minutes the first time. Thirty seconds every time after.

THE DIE

1-2	SOFT TOUCH Slow, clothed, unhurried. The warm-up.	1-2
3-4	FLIRTY FUN Teasing and playful. Laughing is the point.	3-4
5-6	CLASSIC HEAT The good standards, done properly.	5-6
7-8	TURN IT UP Bolder asks. Say yes on purpose.	7-8
9-10	WILD CARD Unpredictable. Expect to be surprised.	9-10
11	FOCUS ON YOU One person receives. The other runs the night.	11
12	FREE PLAY Four cards that hand the night back to you — invent it, combine two, or swap roles.	12

Every card back carries its color and die numbers. Roll, then take the first back that matches. No match left? Roll again, or step one up the ramp.

ANATOMY OF A CARD

- IMAGE
Sets the tone at a glance.
- CATEGORY BAR
Where the card sits on the heat ramp.
- RARITY MARK
Cosmetic, never difficulty.
- TITLE
The activity in three words.
- INSTRUCTION
Read it out loud, as written.
- SPICE & TIME
One to five, plus how long it runs.

Shown at 94% of actual card size. The time estimate is a floor, not a ceiling — every card is written to be stretched.

A FULL TURN

Every turn has two roles. The roller rolls and reads. The partner answers.

1 ROLL

The number picks a color. Every card back shows its color and die numbers.

2 DRAW

Fan the deck face down. Take the first card whose back matches.

3 READ IT OUT LOUD

Every word, exactly as written. Saying it is half of it.

4 GET AN ANSWER

Do it, tweak it, save it, or pass. Either of you can pass. See The Four Answers.

5 PLAY IT

Unless the card says otherwise, “you” means the roller and “your partner” means the other one. The time on the card is a floor. Keep going as long as it’s working.

6 CLEAR IT

When you’re both ready to move on, the card goes on the Played pile. The partner becomes the roller.

If a card says to roll the die or set a timer, do it. The numbers are part of the card.

THE FOUR ANSWERS

DO IT

Play the card as written. The default, and usually the right call.

TWEAK IT

Change one detail, like the place, the pace or the part that doesn't work, and play the rest. Agree on the change before you start, not halfway through.

SAVE IT

You both want it, just not now. It goes on the Saved pile. Cards that need a morning, a car, a date or a hotel go here automatically, and the roller rolls again.

PASS

Either of you, any card, no reason. It goes to the bottom of the deck, face down, and the same roller rolls again. There is no limit on passes.

Two passes in a row is information, not failure. Step down one category for the next roll.

SPECIAL ROLLS

11 FOCUS ON YOU

Before drawing, the roller decides who receives: themselves or their partner. The receiver doesn't reciprocate, doesn't hurry and doesn't apologize. The card ends when they say so.

12 FREE PLAY

Four cards that hand the night back to you:

- Dealer's Choice. The roller looks through the whole deck and picks one card.
 - Double Draw. Roll twice, take the first match for each roll and combine them.
 - Reverse Roles. Roll again. On that card, the partner does what the roller would have done.
 - Free Play Create. Invent something together, right now.

■ ALL FOUR PLAYED?

Once all four yellow Free Play cards are out of the deck, a 12 means the roller picks any card in the deck.

Roll again, or step one category up the ramp. Focus on You has only six cards, so it usually runs out first.

Your ceiling applies to every special roll. Dealer's Choice can't pick a card you left in the box.

ENDING THE NIGHT

THE NIGHT ENDS WHEN

1 EITHER OF YOU CALLS IT

Stop means stop. No last card, no explanation owed.

2 THE TIMER GOES

If you set one, it wins.

3 YOU'RE BOTH DONE

The most common ending, and the best one.

THEN

4 THE LAST FIVE MINUTES

Stay in the room. Water, closeness, a little talking.

5 ONE KEEP, ONE RETIRE

Each of you names one card from tonight you'd play again, and one you never need to see. Retired cards go back in the box apart from the deck, until you both want them back.

6 RESET

Shuffle Played cards back into the deck. Keep the Saved pile on top of the box. Next time, start by drawing from it instead of rolling.

No winner, no loser. The only score is whether you both want to play again.

SECTION 02

CARDS & HEAT

THREE RARITIES.
FIVE LEVELS OF HEAT.

RARITY

COMMON

30 OF 72

Plain frame, no metallic. Reliable, repeatable, always welcome.

UNCOMMON

Metallic silver frame. Almost as plentiful as Common, and a little more of an occasion.

RARE

13 OF 72

Full holographic foil. Thirteen cards worth building a night around.

Rarity changes how a card looks and how often you'll see it — never how hard it is. A Rare card isn't more extreme, it's more memorable.

HEAT LEVELS

WARM

2 CARDS

Touch, talk, anticipation. Clothes stay on.

PLAYFUL

16 CARDS

Teasing with intent. Somebody loses a layer.

33 CARDS

Straightforwardly sexual. This is the deck's centre of gravity.

BOLD

18 CARDS

Asks something of you. Worth agreeing to in advance.

ALL IN

3 CARDS

The far end. Deliberately scarce, and never a surprise.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OR THE WHOLE
NIGHT. YOU CONTROL THE PACE.

SECTION 03

GROUND RULES

FIVE THINGS THAT MAKE THE REST OF IT WORK.

GROUND RULES

1 ANYONE CAN PASS

No reason needed and no penalty. Put the card back, roll again, move on. A pass is part of the game, not a failure at it.

2 CHANGE THE CARD

If most of a card sounds great and one detail does not, do the part that works. The cards are prompts, not instructions from management.

3 AGREE FIRST, THEN PLAY

Talk about what is off the table before the first roll. Then stop negotiating and enjoy yourselves — mid-card is a bad time to renegotiate.

4 STOP MEANS STOP

Not slow down, not convince me. The game ends the moment either of you wants it to, with no discussion owed.

5 THE LAST FIVE MINUTES COUNT

Stay in the room afterwards. How a night ends is most of what either of you will remember about it.

For consenting adults. Play at your own pace. Stop whenever you want.

HOUSE RULES

■ THE LADDER

Ignore the die. Start at Soft Touch and climb one category per turn. Stop wherever you like.

■ CATEGORY LOCK

Pick one category before you start and stay there all night. Ignore the die entirely.

■ TRADE THE ROLL

Once per night, either of you can hand a roll to the other and make them take it.

■ THE SAVE PILE

Set aside cards you both want but not tonight. Next time, start with that pile instead of rolling.

■ SPEED ROUND

Fifteen-minute timer, Spice 1 and 2 only. Built for weeknights when nobody has the energy for a whole evening.

■ BLIND DRAW

Draw face down and commit before reading. High trust only, and never on a first play.

Invent your own. The best house rule is the one you'd be embarrassed to explain to anyone else.

EXPANSIONS

 DATE NIGHT 12 CARDS

Turn the evening out into the main event.

 WEEKEND GETAWAY 12 CARDS

Hotel keys, do not disturb, zero interruptions.

 LONG-TERM COUPLES 12 CARDS

You know every move. Time to make some new ones.

 QUICK & DIRTY 12 CARDS

Five to fifteen minutes. Still counts.

 TOY-FRIENDLY 12 CARDS

Add one more tool to the night.

 TRAVEL 12 CARDS

New city, new room, different rules.

Full rules for mixing packs on page 21.

PLAYING WITH EXPANSIONS

1 JUST SHUFFLE THEM IN

Same colored backs as the base deck. Shuffle them straight in.

2 THEMED NIGHT

One pack's 12 cards don't cover every face of the die. Keep the pack as a small deck of its own. Look for a match there first, then in the base deck.

3 NO-DIE NIGHT

Or skip the die. Shuffle one pack on its own and take turns drawing from the top. This works best for Date Night and Travel, where the cards follow the evening rather than the roll.

4 PACK FOR THE TRIP

Date Night, Weekend Getaway and Travel cards often need somewhere you aren't yet. Pull them before you leave and take a small stack with you.

5 CEILING STILL APPLIES

Expansion cards follow your Spice ceiling like any other. Quick & Dirty leans hot: most of its cards are Spice 4.

No expansion includes Free Play cards. A 12 always draws from the base four.
